Investigación

CONCEPTO DE SDN

Héctor Emilio Cantellano Gómez

INSTITUO TECNOLOGICO DE CANUN | TELECOMUNICACIONES

Concepto de SDN

What I understood the SND is software-defined networks are an architectural approach to the network that allows the network to be controlled in an intelligent and central way, or programmed, using software applications, This helps operators to manage the entire network consistently and comprehensively, regardless of the underlying network technology.

SDN enables consistent management of the network, which can be made up of complex technology components.